

Cedar Valley College to celebrate tax-free weekend with special registration session

LANCASTER, Texas — Checklist for tax-free weekend: 1. Purchase school supplies; 2. Go shopping for school clothes; 3. Register for fall semester classes at Cedar Valley College! In celebration of Texas' tax-free weekend, Cedar Valley College (CVC) will hold a special registration session on Friday, August 17 from 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.

For individuals who don't want to wait in long registration lines, this will be the time to register. Extra staff will be on hand to assist students in the selection of their fall semester classes, and free food and prizes will be given away. In addition, radio station K104's Nate Quick will broadcast live from campus from 11 a.m.–1 p.m.

The CVC bookstore will offer extra bonuses during the tax-free registration event including 10 percent off school supplies (electronics excluded) and no sales tax on clothing items.

The registration event will be held in Building L on the CVC campus located at 3030 N. Dallas Ave. in Lancaster. For more information, please call 972-860-8201.
