Don't Wait! Spring, Winter Registration Starts Tuesday

Priority registration for the Spring 2015 and Winter terms begins Tuesday, Nov. 18.

Take advantage of priority registration to sign up for classes before registration is open to the general public. Remember, the sooner you register, the better your chances of getting the classes you want.

Priority registration ends Sunday, Nov. 23. Regular registration, which is open to everyone, begins Monday, Nov. 24.

Registration for Spring 2015 classes ends Jan. 14. The end date to register for Winter term classes varies by class.

Spring credit classes begin Tuesday, Jan. 20.

We also offer Spring Flex Term classes that don't follow the regular semester schedules.

Consider Winter Term Classes

The Winter minimester lets you earn three or more credit hours in just a few weeks. The schedule of classes is different at each college. However, Winter Term classes typically last from mid-December through early January. Course offerings vary by college, also. Check out our Winter term class schedule.

Winter minimester classes are intense and fast-paced, so make sure you have the time before you register for them.

How to Register

You can register online (if you are eligible) or register on campus.

Note that dates and times for on-campus registration may vary by college; visit your college's website for the most current information.

Our offices will be closed Dec. 25 through Jan. 1, but eligible students still can register online.

Have Questions About Registering?

See Who Won an iPod for Taking Our Survey!

Donisher Reed

Congratulations to Donisher Reed! She is the winner of an iPod Nano. Her winning entry was drawn at random from among those of you who completed the Student Communications Preferences Survey in October.

Donisher is an Eastfield College online student. She plans to get an associate degree in Child Development.

"I would like to thank Ms. Georgeann Elliott Moss, director of Internet Publishing, for the efforts taken to contact me about winning the contest Hopefully I didn't scream too loud in her ear upon receiving news of my winning," Donisher said.

Who's Your Fave: Facebook or Instagram?

Dallas County Community College District conducted the online Student Communications Preferences Survey to find out how you use the Internet and your cellphone, and how you want to get information, whether through social media such as Facebook or Twitter, mobile apps or other ways.

You might be surprised by some of the findings from the survey:

- A full 85 percent of you reported being logged on to Instagram at least once each day. That's slightly below Facebook's 88 percent. And 70 percent reported being on Twitter at least once a day.
- More of you are downloading the DCCCD Mobile App, available from Google Play for Android phones or Apple for the iPhone. Thirty-seven percent of you reported knowing about the app. And most of those who used the app found it very useful.
- And while only 16 percent of you knew there was a DCCCD Student Information Blog (dcccinfo.wordpress.com), that's up from 10 percent a year ago. Progress! Give the blog a read – it has information that's fun and helpful to you as a student.

See full results from the DCCCD Student Communications Preferences Survey. And thanks for participating.

cost of travel, lodging and food. Students will be asked to complete a set of online assignments. For more details about the assignments, students can attend a one-hour online information session about NCAS. Student help sessions will also be held in the spring for students with questions about the assignments.

If you're selected, you'll participate in an on-site experience at NASA Johnson Space Center, where you'll take part in a team project directed by NASA engineers, attend astronaut briefings and take a tour of NASA facilities. The three-day visit will take place in spring 2015.

Many students who participate in the program have a strong background in computers and/or science and engineering, but other students are welcome to apply, too. Part-time and full-time credit students can apply.
